REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

The following report of Special Committee was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

To the President and Members of the Senate.

On April 1, 1931, the Senate adopted the following resolution, offered by Senator Inman:

"WHEREAS, The State Board of Education has contracted with an eastern book publishing house to publish 300,000 copies of the elementary textbooks; and WHEREAS, The State of California is maintaining a State Printing Plant at the State Capital; and

WHEREAS, It is reported that said textbooks can be produced at a lower cost to the taxpayers of this State at its own printing plant; and

WHEREAS, The removing of this work from California will lead to further unemployment of California citizens; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That a special committee of three Senators be appointed by the President to investigate such action by the State Board of Education, in order that the Senate may be informed of said facts to the end that it may act intelligently upon legislation regarding the matters and things herein set forth and to report its findings at the earliest possible date."

On April 3, 1931, the President appointed as members of such Special Committee, Senator Inman, chairman, Senator Deuel and Senator Swing.

On April 6, 1931, the committee met and organized and adjourned until April 13th. At this meeting it was agreed to ask members of a similar Assembly committee to sit with the Senate committee, and at subsequent meetings Assemblyman Nielsen was present.

On April 13th the committee met and the following persons appeared and testified:

Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Schools.

Walter L. Bachrodt, city superintendent of schools, San Jose.

Charles A. Adams, chairman, Textbook Committee of the State Board of Education.

C. L. McLane, president, State Board of Education.

Sam Cohn, Deputy State Superintendent of Schools.

Harry Hammond, State Printer.

On April 20th the final meeting of the committee was held. E. P. Clark, member of the State Board of Education, appeared and testified. Vierling Kersey presented documents asked for at a previous meeting.

Since April 20th no meeting of the committee has been held, nor has the committee been called for the purpose of formulating a report. In view of the language of the resolution the undersigned believes that a report to the Senate should be made, and individually submits the following as his conclusions, after a full consideration of the testimony adduced:

The State printing of textbooks presents two phases: One purely mechanical, the other pertaining to the text or content of the books.

The first may be dismissed with but a few words. The testimony was all to the effect that the State Printing Office is equipped with men and machinery capable of the manufacture of school books that are entirely satisfactory from the printing and binding standpoint.

The second phase, that of securing the best possible content, was in dispute. The educators were a unit in testifying that the superior texts were held under copyright by the book publishing concerns, and that in many instances these concerns refused to lease their plates for State printing. These witnesses also were of the opinion that efforts to have textbooks "written to order" would prove futile.

These premises constitute the background for the controversy leading to the resolution by Senator Inman and the appointment of the Special Committee.

It was alleged that "the State Board of Education has contracted with an eastern book publishing house to publish 300,000 copies of the elementary textbooks." The evidence did not support the allegation. The evidence was to the effect that the Board of Education advertised for proffers for a new music book for the elementary grades. Four firms made proffers and submitted samples. These were, as was the custom, submitted to the curriculum commission, set up by the statutes, for its report. The commission rejected two of the proffers, or books, as unsuitable, and recommended the acceptance of two of the books in what was termed a "split" order—that is, one of the books was found suitable for certain grades, and the other for the remaining grades. In one instance plates under lease agreement were available for use in the State Printing Office; in the other instance, plates could not be leased, and a tentative order for the printed books was placed, the basic price being upon carload lots. No mention of 300,000 copies was made. But one textbook was under consideration, that of a music book for the elementary grades.

There was no evidence that the action of the Board of Education was irregular or not in accordance with the usual practice. Texts for music books are difficult to secure, but the evidence shows that the Board of Education made every reasonable effort to secure such texts together with plates that might be used in the State Printing Office. The board was able to secure plates for approximately one-half of its requirements, and was compelled to place the order for the remainder of the books with a firm not leasing plates.

There was also evidence to the effect that this was the first instance in many years that such an order had been placed. There was no evidence that the board discriminated against the State Printing Plant, but on the contrary, the board made every endeavor to secure plates for all the printing of this particular textbook.

The inquiry by the committee took a much wider scope than called for in Senator Inman's resolution, and entered into the whole subject of textbook printing by the State. Upon this broad subject the undersigned recognizes no duty to report. That subject was fully covered in the recent report of the California Commission for the Study of Educational Problems.

Respectfully submitted.

CHARLES H. DEUEL, Senator, Sixth District.

MOTION TO INTRODUCE RESOLUTION.

Senator Crittenden moved, seconded by Senators Fellom and Slater, that Senator Swing be permitted to introduce a resolution out of order. Motion carried.

RESOLUTION.

The following resolution was offered (out of order):

By Senator Swing:

WHEREAS, On January 22, 1931, the Department of Finance presented to Senator Swing Senate Bill No. 517, and requested that he introduce the same for and in behalf of that department; that said bill at said time did not contain any provisions authorizing the Department of Finance to make any lease of any lands belonging to the State of California for any purpose whatsoever; that thereafter said bill in its original form passed the Senate; said bill was thereafter amended on five different occasions in the Assembly, the last of which amendments being on May 13, 1931, at which time there was amended into said bill on page 4, line 34 to line 41, inclusive, the following provision:

10. Upon such terms and conditions and under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe, to lease any land belonging to the State or in which the State has an interest, for the production of minerals, oil, gas or other hydrocarbons, if in his judgment it is for the best interest of the State to do so and if no other State agency has express authority in law to lease the land for such purposes.

that thereafter said bill was passed by the Assembly, and sent to the Senate for concurrence; that the said amendments came up for concurrence by the Senate on May 13th, at the hour of eleven o'clock and thirty minutes p.m., at which time Assistant Director of Finance, Fred Links, presented to the author of said bill a brief statement of each of the amendments inserted in said bill by the Assembly, explaining the same to enable the author of said bill to properly explain said amendments to the Senate; that the explanation concerning said amendment was not on the front of the sheet containing the explanations which was handed to the author of said bill, but said author is now informed that it was upon the reverse side thereof, for which reason the author of said bill did not observe it, nor did the author of said bill explain said amendment to the Senate at the time said Senate concurred in said Assembly amendments; that said amendments were thereupon concurred in and said amended bill approved by the Senate; and

WHEREAS, The author of said bill feels that the concurrence in said amendments was made by the Senate without having before it a full conception of the effect of the action of the Assembly in adopting the amendments referred to, and because of such situation said author feels that the matter should again be brought to the attention of the Senate and that if the Senate is not in favor of the policy as outlined in the above quoted Assembly amendment it should so indicate in order that the author of said bill may cause said provision to be amended from the bill or said bill vetoed by the Governor; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That said bill be amended by striking therefrom the following provision, to wit:

10. Upon such terms and conditions and under rules and regulations as he shall prescribe, to lease any land belonging to the State or in which the State has an interest, for the production of minerals, oil, gas, or other hydrocarbons, if in his judgment it is for the best interest of the State to do so and if no other State agency has express authority in law to lease the land for such purposes.

or in the event such an amendment can not be made at the present session of this Legislature, that the Governor be and he is hereby requested to veto said bill.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator Swing adopted.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

The following report was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Inman:

To the Senate of the State of California.

We, your committee for the investigation of the recent textbook adoption, have held several public hearings and called a number of witnesses to get at the actual facts concerning the recent adoption of music books and the circumstances leading up to it.

We find that there were submitted, pursuant to call of the State Board of Education, four series of music books covering the elementary school grades. Two series of music books were offered in which the publishers bid on a plate rental basis:

The Music Hour series, by Silver, Burdett & Company.

The Universal Music series, by Hinds, Hayden & Eldridge.

Two series were offered to be furnished in carload lots shipped from the east:

Music Education series, by Ginn & Company.

Robert Foresman series, by American Book Company.

Of these four series, the Curriculum Commission considered most favorably the following:

The Music Hour series, by Silver, Burdett & Company.

Music Education series, by Ginn & Company.

The minutes of the Curriculum Commission show that the commission were divided in their support between the Music Hour series by Silver, Burdett & Company, and the Music Education series by Ginn & Company. The vote at one stage of the proceedings was 6 to 5 for the Ginn series, and later 6 to 5 for the Silver, Burdett series.

The testimony of C. A. Adams, chairman of the Textbook Committee of the State Board of Education, was that the action of the State board was based on a unanimous report of the Curriculum Commission. The minutes of the Curriculum Commission show that they were unable to get a unanimous vote for either series and this resulted in a compromise whereby they recommended part of one series and part of another.

The legislative hearings of this committee with members of the Department of Education showed that the merits of the Ginn & Company books and the Music Hour series of Silver, Burdett & Company were about equal from an educational standpoint. The vote of 6 to 5 at one time for the adoption of all of the Ginn & Company Music Education series, and later a vote of 6 to 5 for the Music Hour series by Silver, Burdett & Company for all grades one to six plainly shows that the Curriculum Commission was about even in its opinions as to the relative merits of both series of books in question.

During the hearings both C. A. Adams, chairman of the Textbook Committee of the State Board of Education, and Superintendent Kersey, stated that opinions of music teachers throughout the State were sought regarding the recommendations of music texts. The minutes of the Curriculum Commission show that these reports from music supervisors and subcommittees over the State investigating music texts were about equally divided between the Music Hour and Music Education; some prefer one, some prefer the other. Further evidence shows that whichever one is preferred, the custom is to use a complete series.

Without the establishment of a decided superiority of the Ginn & Company series of music texts over the Silver, Burdett series of music books, we find there was no necessity existing whereby the contract should be made with Ginn & Company to buy music books in carload lots.

Further evidence of no necessity existing for entering into a contract with Ginn & Company was given in Superintendent Kersey's testimony before this committee in which it was stated that it was his intention to order the Music Hour series in the first four grades printed at the State Printing Office and that no money would be available for the purchase of the Ginn & Company series of music texts for over two years. It does not seem necessary to enter into a contract now for books to be purchased two years later, for by that time it might be clearly apparent that other books might be available which were superior to those contracted for now. The Ginn & Company series of music books is an old text, with a copyright date of 1924-1925 and two years from now they will be still more out of date.

It is the opinion of the investigating committee that the interpretation of the word necessity as used in this particular case, means that a condition exists making it impossible to secure satisfactory music books from any other source than from a company which will not lease their plates to the State of California, or that a catastrophe would happen at the State Printing Plant which would render that institution incapable of performing the duties required by the State Board of Education.

We further find that the proposal to adopt Adventures in Music published by Ginn & Company is a violation of the constitutional provisions requiring a uniform series of text books. Adventures in Music is a one-book course for rural schools for all grades and the material in this book is different from the material adopted for city schools provided by the Music Hour series. Therefore, the adoption of a book for rural schools with material different from that used in city schools, would not be a uniform adoption.

This committee finds no reason why the State Board of Education should not have adopted the entire series of the Music Hour books by the Silver, Burdette Company which could have been printed at the State Printing Office and would provide a uniform series of books for city and rural schools alike. This series of books is a new series, with a copyright date of 1929-1930 and has been adopted recently in its entirety by the state of Utah, the state of Kansas, the state of Idaho and many progressive cities in various parts of the United States.

The almost even division of the Curriculum Commission vote should have convinced the State Board of Education that no necessity existed for ordering a split series of music books.

The even division of opinion of the Committees of Music Readers (see Kersey report) appointed by the Curriculum Commission, further shows that no necessity existed to warrant the purchase of a part of the music series in carload lots from Ginn & Company.

This division of opinion is clearly shown by the minutes of the Curriculum Commission and by Superintendent Kersey's report to the State Board of Education, attached hereto.

The report of Superintendent Kersey to the State Board of Education, page 2, also shows that his own estimate of the relative merits of these two series gave the Music Hour 122 points as against 116 points for the Music Education series.

It would be unwise for the State Board of Education to establish a precedent at this time of unemployment in the State of California by purchasing a large quantity of text books that could be manufactured in the State's own printing plant.

Therefore, we recommend that the State Board of Education rescind its recent action in adopting certain music books published by Ginn & Company and to be purchased in carload lots. And that instead they adopt the complete series of the Music Hour to be printed at the State Printing Plant.

INMAN, Chairman.

It is the recommendation of the Curriculum Commission, ten members voting, all favorably, one member absent not voting, that there be approved for adoption and use in the elementary schools of the State of California the following books, published by the respective publishers mentioned:

of the State Board of Education.*

March 27, 1931.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: This statement is prepared to accompany the recommendation of the California Curriculum Commission and is in the nature of an explanation of the procedure followed by the commission in arriving at its conclusions and, therefore, presenting its recommendation.

The commission convened at 2:30 Monday afternoon, March 23d. The particular item of business immediately in hand was that having to do with a consideration of the various series of music books presented for study. The chairman reported to the commission that in this study, as in all other studies which the commission had been assigned to make, consideration was to be given only to matters of educational merit and the value of the books as they might meet the requirements of teacher and classroom pupil in accomplishing the program of music education approved for the elementary schools of the State of California. This, therefore, was indication to the commission that the question as to whether or not books to be considered were to be printed by the State Printer or purchased in carload lots was not to enter into the consideration given such books by the commission; that educational merit, and that alone, could be considered.

Upon motion by Miss Moorhead, seconded by Dr. Hockett and unanimously carried, the Music Hour and Music Education Series were approved for final consideration because of their outstanding merit and advantage over the other two series, the Book of Songs and the Universal School Music Series.

The chairman directed the commission to consider its deliberations in the light that the actual report of each vote on the various series considered should stand as the final report to the State Board of Education, rather than a report which would come out of a motion to unanimously approve, which might be made following a motion approving one series or another by a narrow margin of votes. The chairman indicated that it would be proper, in the light of the extensive and valid studies which had been conducted in various sections of the State of California by members of the commission and for the benefit of members of the commission, that each member give expression to his conclusions when called upon and report his technique in connection with such conclusion.

The chair reported first. In his report it was indicated that from all of the various studies which had been presented to the chairman there had been presented certain points in common which were those which adequately presented the needs in our music program and the qualities in a text required to satisfy those needs. The chairman had listed and evaluated the texts accordingly. The schedule used was as follows:

Considerable discussion followed this presentation. In regular order the members of the commission followed in their presentation. Miss Salisbury reported at length from an extensive study and comparative analysis of these two series, carried on in the Los Angeles city schools. This study reported strength for the manual and lower grade books of the Music Hour series, with weakness in the upper grade books; weakness in the manual and psychology of the lower grade books of the Music Education series and strength in the upper grade books and particular advantage in the one book prepared for use in rural schools.

Mrs. Barnett, chairman of the Music Committee of the Curriculum Commission and State chairman for the regional music committees which during the past two years have been setting up criteria and studies for the needs of the State and the type of material which would be satisfactory, reported at length from numerous studies indicating a division of opinion in the field with a slight advantage in favor of the Music Education series.

Considerable discussion followed Mrs. Barnett's report, particularly as to the advantage which each series would bring to the average teacher in the State of California. It was agreed by the commission that the manual of the Music Hour series was in keeping with the needs of our teachers and also presented a music program consistent with the advantages desired for our pupils.

The chairman presented a report from Superintendent Chenoweth, in his absence, indicating the results of studies he had carried on and evaluations made of these two series in the city of Bakersfield and in Kern County schools, favoring the Music Hour series.

It was evident that the commission would be about equally divided in its vote concerning adoption of either series. A vote was taken which resulted in a six to five count in favor of Music Education series.

The commission felt that it should advise the State Board of Education to better advantage than a majority of one vote might indicate, so further deliberation was had, particularly as the commission approached the music needs from another angle, at this time considering what were the music requirements we should make of our children. It was Miss Moorhead's request that we proceed in this manner. The chairman suggested that the following seven points constitute the list:

1. Rhythmic expression.
2. Understanding of the structure and qualities of musical instruments.
3. Correlations.
4. Knowledge and skill of music notation.
5. Experience through vocal expression.
6. Composing musical phrases—creative.
7. Listening to music.

When the two series were considered on this basis, another vote was had which resulted in a six to five count in favor of the Music Hour series.

The commission concluded it should revert to its original considerations and, therefore, by a unanimous vote, decided that it would recommend what is conceded by all those reporting to the commission to be a strong and satisfactory selection, providing for our teachers and schools an admirable and universally acceptable manual, what is the best kindergarten and first grade book of songs available, what represents the best first, second and third music books for early and lower grade music study, and then the very strong fifth and sixth grade books for the later years, together with the outstanding book presented for small rural schools. Therefore, the commission recommends as follows:

The Kindergarten and First Grade Book, Book One, Book Two, Book Three, the Elementary Teachers Book, and the Intermediate Teachers Book of the Music Hour series, published by Silver, Burdett and Company, and Two-part Music, Intermediate Music and Adventures in Music of the Music Education series, published by Ginn and Company.

Respectfully submitted.

V. KERSEY, Chairman, Curriculum Commission.

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE.

The following report of Joint Committee was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Report of the Joint Legislative Committee on Lien Laws.

To the Senate and Assembly.

GENTLEMEN: Your Committee on Lien Laws, appointed pursuant to Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 47 of the 1929 session of the Legislature, begs to report the following:

That Senators Inman and McCormack were appointed by President Carnahan as the Senate members of the committee, and that Assemblymen Crawford and Scofield were appointed by Speaker Levey as Assembly members of the committee.

Neither Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 47, nor any other legislative act, appropriated money to meet the expenses of the committee, and consequently it became impossible for the committee to hold hearings in different parts of the State and to take testimony concerning the matter which the committee was appointed to investigate. The committee did, however, after some correspondence agree that Senator Inman should act as chairman of the committee and that the committee should proceed as far as conditions permitted to carry out the purposes for which the committee was appointed.

The committee, by letters to persons believed to be interested in lien laws and through items in the press, solicited criticism of the existing lien laws and recommendations as to improvements or corrections in the law which might be of benefit to the people of the State.

The committee received six principal recommendations for changes in the Mechanics' Lien Law, which briefly, are as follows:

1. That section 564 of the Code of Civil Procedure be amended to provide that in an action by a mechanics' lien claimant for the foreclosure of a mechanics' lien and the sale of property affected thereby, where it appeared that the property was in danger of being lost, removed, materially injured or that such property was insufficient to discharge the debt, the judge of the court in which the proceeding was had, might in his discretion, appoint a receiver.

2. The second proposal submitted was that section 1184 of the Code of Civil Procedure be amended to permit the filing of a verified stop notice similar to those now required by law to be filed in cases involving public work in those cases in which there is no bond ensuring to the benefit of laborers, subcontractors and materialmen, and requiring that the owner, upon receipt of such stop notice, withhold from the contractor and that the lender under a building loan, withhold from the borrower out of the next progress payment, which will become due to the contractor under the terms of the building contract or to the borrower under the terms of the building loan, respectively, such amount of money as will be sufficient to pay the verified claim and any mechanics' lien which may be established in connection therewith.

3. The third proposition submitted proposed to amend section 1185 of the Code of Civil Procedure to provide that, with respect to construction under the direct control of the owner, that a bond should be procured and filed by the owner which would afford protection by such borrower and his sureties for the benefit of the laborer, subcontractor and materialmen, similar to the protection now afforded by the statutory labor and material bond as is now required by section 1183 of the Code of Civil Procedure with respect to construction under the direction and control of the contractor.

4. The fourth recommendation which was submitted as an alternative to the third proposition proposed an amendment to section 1186 of the Code of Civil Procedure which briefly stated, would give mechanics' liens priority over encumbrances unmade and unrecorded at the time the improvement or the first of an interrelated group of improvements was commenced, unless there was furnished a bond insuring to the benefit of the lien claimants, in which event such building loan incumbrance would be prior to such mechanics' liens.

5. The fifth proposal was that a law should be passed giving all just and proven claims protection by legally filed liens, precedence over all claims, debts and mortgages subsequent to the first mortgage or date of trust.

6. Several other recommendations were also received but they were generally too vague or were not of such nature that the committee felt they came within the scope of their consideration under the resolution creating the committee.

The committee requested from the persons submitting propositions arguments in support of their contentions, and also requested persons opposed to the propositions submitted to file briefs stating their position and reasons for their objections. The committee made copies of all the briefs and recommendations and submitted them to the other parties who had shown any interest in the matter of lien laws and requested replies to the arguments submitted.

Except in the case of the first proposition enumerated above, upon which there was no disagreement, the committee found that the propositions were all ably and vigorously championed by their proponents and likewise they were just as vigorously opposed by others, the alignments apparently having been very definitely drawn by previous contests over the same subject matter.

By reason of the lack of adequate opportunity to study the proposals submitted to the committee, because of the fact that the two Assemblymen appointed to the committee did not seek reelection and are not now members of the Assembly, because no appropriation was made to enable the committee to hold hearings and make a more thorough investigation of the proposals, and because of the further fact that there exists some difference of opinion between the two remaining members of the committee as to certain proposals, the committee has been able only to agree and to recommend as follows:

1. It appears to the committee that a considerable evil exists with respect to the failure of the present Mechanics' Lien Laws and business practices connected therewith to adequately prevent the diversion of building loan funds from the payment of bills contracted with respect to building construction.

2. The committee approves of the recommendation that provision be made for the appointment of receivers in those certain mechanics' lien foreclosure cases in which such action may be necessary to preserve the property to which the lien is attached, as was proposed in the proposition submitted by the committee and designated number one above and recommends the adoption of such a measure.

3. As to the other proposals submitted, the committee feels that it has not been able, under the circumstances, to give sufficient consideration to the proposals to make recommendations. The committee, therefore, makes no recommendations thereon, but respectfully suggests that the Legislature or the Judiciary Committee give further and more mature consideration to the proposals.

The committee has on file the proposals submitted to it and the arguments for and against each such proposal and will be pleased to make the same available to any legislative committee or group desiring to study the same.

Respectfully submitted,

J. M. INMAN,
THOMAS McCORMACK,
Committee.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Jones:

THE STATE BAR OF CALIFORNIA.
LOS ANGELES, May 13, 1931.

*Hon. Herbert C. Jones,
State Senate, Sacramento, California.*

DEAR SENATOR JONES: Pursuant to our understanding had yesterday, I am enclosing herewith copy of my letter of the second instant, to Mr. Honnold regarding the attitude of the State Bar as to the time when the educational standards shall go into effect pursuant to the authority contained in Assembly Bill No. 496.

Very truly yours,
(Signed)

LEONARD B. SLOSSON.

(Copy)

May 2, 1931.

Hon. A. R. Honnold, Assembly Chamber, Sacramento, California.

DEAR MR. HONNOLD: This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of April 30th, re Assembly Bill No. 496.

It is my understanding that it is not the intention of the State Bar, in the event Assembly Bill No. 496 becomes a law, to promulgate a rule establishing educational standards that will be retroactive in effect. That is to say, the rule establishing such standards, when approved by the Supreme Court, will be its terms take effect at some date in the future, in order that no hardship may be worked upon those who have about completed their preparation for taking the examination for admission to the bar. For instance, in the case of the friend whom you mention, he will have almost completed his preparation for the bar examination by the time the law goes into effect. If the rule should be established to take effect at once after the law has gone into effect, it would work a hardship on him. For that reason, it is proposed that the rule shall not go into effect until some time in the future.

Very truly yours,

LEONARD B. SLOSSON.

RECESS.

On motion of Senator Breed, at eleven o'clock a.m., the President of the Senate declared recess until eleven o'clock and ten minutes a.m.

RECONVENED.

At eleven o'clock and ten minutes a.m., the Senate reconvened.

Lieutenant Governor Frank E. Merriam, President of the Senate, in the chair.

Minute Clerk Harold J. Powers at the desk.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Swing:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE,
SACRAMENTO, MAY 15, 1931.

Hon. Ralph L. Swing, Chairman,

Finance Committee of the Senate,
Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR SENATOR SWING: I am transmitting to you herewith copy of a letter of today's date received from His Excellency, Governor Rolph, in which he suggests that since this is the closing day of the State Legislature, I should advise the Legislature concerning the expressions of the State Treasurer, made in public, with regard to the financial condition of the State of California. Accordingly, I am attaching a copy of my reply to the Governor, setting forth briefly an analysis of the above referred to statement, and my estimate of the actual condition of the State's finances.

Trusting that this may be useful to you in your closing deliberations affecting the finances of the State of California, and for your consideration during the interim between this and the succeeding session of the Legislature, I am

Very sincerely yours,

ROLLAND A. VANDEGRIFT,
Director of Finance.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE.

SACRAMENTO, May 15, 1931.

Hon. Rolland A. Vandegrieff,Director of Finance,State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

DEAR MR. VANDEGRIEFF: My attention has been called to an article appearing in the morning press regarding State finances, and I transmit the article to you for reply to me.

I attach clipping from the Sacramento Union, dated Vallejo, May 14th, under the caption "Johnson Sees $10,000,000 State Deficit."

[Sacramento Union]

Johnson Sees $10,000,000 State Deficit.

VALLEJO, May 14—(AP).

Charles G. Johnson, State Treasurer, predicted here today there would be a deficit of between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 in State finances at the end of the fiscal year. He spoke before a luncheon club.

"Our State government is now in the hands of inexperienced men," Johnson said. "Of course, we must be patient."

State government this year, Johnson said, will cost $11,000,000 more than last year. He called the present Legislature the "most disorganized" the State has ever known.

"When it adjourns it will have accomplished less than any of the Legislatures in my 20 years of experience at the Capitol," the Treasurer asserted.

Today is the closing day of the State Legislature and I think they should be advised by you of the comments of the State Treasurer expressed to the public, in order that if any further financial consideration is needed by the State Legislature to the State's finances it should be acted upon today.

Will you please give this matter your immediate attention?

Very sincerely yours,

JAMES ROLPH, JR.,

Governor of California.

Hon. James Rolph, Jr.,Governor of the State of California,Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR GOVERNOR: In reply to your letter of May 15th regarding the statement attributed to Treasurer Charles G. Johnson that the State will have a deficit of between five and ten million dollars at the end of the fiscal year, I wish to transmit to you the following information:

Either the Treasurer has been misquoted or he demonstrates a complete lack of information concerning the financial condition of the State of California. This fiscal year will end June 30, 1931. At that date we have conservatively estimated that there will be more than $30,000,000 surplus in the treasury. The estimate of the Department of Finance is concurred in by the State Controller. This means that the Department of Finance, which has as one function the estimating of revenues of the State, and also, through the Division of Budgets and Accounts, functions the budget and checks expenditures, as well as the Controller, who, in turn, under the law, is responsible for seeing that the expenditures are made according to appropriations, both agree that this large surplus will be present.

It is inconceivable that the Treasurer, who has no access to detailed information other than that of his office, could safely make such a statement, unless we might presume there is an error in quoting him, and that in place of the fiscal year he meant to say at the end of the next biennium. Such may be the case, for the present fiscal year referred to in the newspaper item is covered by the budget prepared by the prior administration, and the responsibility for it rests on that administration. Should there be a deficit, which is utterly impossible, the responsibility would not rest on your administration.

Moreover, further along in the item, the Treasurer is quoted as saying, "Our State government is now in the hands of inexperienced men." This would infer that he refers to the present administration, although it is difficult to say how it can refer to Your Excellency, with your long public administrative service, as being inexperienced, or for that matter, many other administrators serving at the present time.

Presuming, however, that reference is made to the coming biennium rather than to the present fiscal year, the following facts clearly demonstrate that the statement that a deficit of between five and ten million dollars will result is far-fetched, to state it mildly.

The general fund surplus, as of June 30, 1931, before enactment of any appropriations by the present Legislature, was conservatively estimated at more than $30,000,000. The Budget bill, as passed by the Legislature, reduced this surplus to approximately $21,250,000. Special appropriation bills and deficiency bills already passed and signed by you total $1,250,000. This reduced the general fund surplus to $20,000,000. In addition, there are special appropriation bills, which have passed at least one house, now before the Legislature, totaling approximately $6,000,000. If all of these bills are enacted into law, the general fund surplus (estimated as of June 30, 1933) will be approximately $14,000,000. It is obvious from these figures that the State is not facing a deficit for the ensuing biennium. Should the present business depression be more severe and of greater duration than was estimated in the Budget, the effect upon revenues at the utmost could not produce a further reduction in the surplus of more than $5,000,000. The best information at the present time indicates an early improvement in business conditions. The statement that the State is faced with a deficit of $10,000,000 is utterly without foundation.

As Director of Finance, I would be remiss if I did not point out to you, at this time, that the special appropriation bills which have passed both houses or are awaiting final passage, are in excess of $6,000,000, and if all of these bills become law, it will reduce the estimated general fund surplus, as of June 30, 1933, at least $1,500,000 below the $15,000,000 which I consider the minimum amount which must be maintained as a surplus to adequately carry on the business of the State of California. In this time of financial depression, it is even more essential that we should make sure that at least $15,000,000 is maintained as a continuous surplus. It is apparent, therefore, that all of these special appropriation bills can not be approved.

In your Budget recommendations to the Legislature, you provided for a reduction of the general fund surplus of approximately $9,000,000. This largely carried out your promise, made to the people, that you would reduce the general fund surplus to carry on the ordinary functions of government, in this period when revenues are decreasing; you likewise, in your inaugural address, promised the people a reduction in the per capita cost of government. You will not be able to reduce the cost of State government, nor preserve the safety of the finances of the State, unless appropriation bills in sufficient amount are disapproved so as to maintain the general fund surplus at not less than $15,000,000.

It should be further pointed out that the Budget submitted by you called for an increase of only $10,186,121.10 over expenditures for the prior biennium, which is 3.9 per cent increase as compared with an average increase of 21 per cent in expenditures for previous bienniums during the effective date of the executive Budget. This Budget cut into the surplus only $9,000,000 and would have left approximately $21,250,000 in the surplus at the end of the biennium. Therefore, if the surplus is entirely wiped out and a deficit does result, the responsibility lies largely with the Legislature.

The Treasurer is quoted as paying his compliments to this Legislature by calling it the most disorganized the State has ever known, and further states that when it adjourns it will have accomplished less than any of the Legislatures in the last 20 years.

As Director of Finance, I would like to state to you that I believe all agree that the Finance Committees of this Legislature gave more consideration to the Budget and to appropriation bills than any Legislature since the adoption of the executive Budget. The members are well aware of the fact that we are having a financial depression, but this Legislature appears to be more willing to place its trust and its faith in the Department of Finance and the State Controller, who have access to the general records of the State and direct information affecting its finances, than in the less comprehensive information available to the State Treasurer.

The State Treasurer is responsible, on the revenue side, for so loaning the funds of the State of California that the largest interest earning will be available to help prevent any falling off in the general fund surplus. It is expected that he will do his part in seeing that the largest revenue is secured from this source. There is no doubt that the other responsible departments of the administration will do their utmost to secure all of the legitimate revenue it is possible to secure, and likewise to economize to the fullest extent to see that expenditures are held to the minimum and that the taxpayers secure the largest possible return for the money expended.

The present Budget, with the smallest percentage of increase in years, makes possible the arresting of the upward curve of per capita cost of the State government in California, for the first time since the World War. This, in itself, should be sufficient manifestation that this administration is well aware of the economic depression and the necessity to economize and has met it squarely.

Respectfully yours,

ROLLAND A. VANDEGRIFT,
Director of Finance.

ASSEMBLY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 19.

Relative to the American Legislators' Association and the Interstate Legislative Reference Bureau.

WHEREAS, All experienced persons know that in each state, legislative problems continually increase, both in number and in complexity; and

WHEREAS, It is obvious that in order to solve such problems most effectively, each Legislature must give systematic, scientific and business-like consideration to the actual facts which have a bearing upon each question—to the extent that such facts have been determined by reliable research; and

WHEREAS, Each Legislature must give similar consideration to the methods and experience of other jurisdictions in dealing with problems similar to its own; and

WHEREAS, No such problems can be dealt with adequately until facilities are established to assist every inquiring legislator to secure the most accurate information and the most expert advice which are available; and

WHEREAS, Experience indicates the necessity for an Interstate Legislative Reference Bureau to serve as a clearing house of information between all of the legislative reference services which are now being conducted by numerous states, and also to serve as a clearing house of information between the legislatures and all other agencies which are engaged in the study and analysis of legislative problems, such as governmental departments, political science departments of universities, competent reputable associations, and all other sources of information; and

WHEREAS, Experience also indicates that in certain states which do not maintain substantial legislative reference services, there is an imperative need for such an Interstate Legislative Reference Bureau, which will assist the legislators of those states to secure whatever information they desire in analyzing the legislative problems which they must determine, and to make more readily accessible for them, without cost, the valuable material which is at all times available from the legislative reference libraries and bureaus of various other states, and from many other reliable sources; and

WHEREAS, Every individual legislator in the United States shares the responsibility for improving the present inadequate and unsatisfactory condition of the legislative processes, but neither any individual legislator, nor any group of legislators from one state, can bring about such improvement without the cooperation of legislators of other states; and

WHEREAS, Such an Interstate Legislative Reference Bureau can not be maintained by any one state alone, without the cooperation of the legislatures of other states; and

WHEREAS, In order to set the machinery in motion to secure the necessary cooperation of the forty-eight legislatures, members of each legislature are working together in the development of the project of the American Legislators' Association; and

WHEREAS, The said American Legislators' Association has now established in the vicinity of the University of Chicago, the Interstate Legislative Reference Bureau, which by explicit pledge is without color of politics, partisanship or propaganda, is conducted without profit, and is engaged upon three principal purposes:

First: To procure promptly for all inquiring state legislators, and their agents, whatever information or advice they desire in connection with any legislative prob-tion, primarily by assisting them to secure, without cost, the benefit of all researches conducted by governmental departments, universities, associations, legislative reference bureaus, and other agencies throughout the United States.

Second: To conduct a systematic study of the legislative processes of each of the states, in order to ascertain the practices which contribute most to efficient and economical organization and procedure; and to render all possible assistance to each legislature—and to each legislative reference bureau—which is endeavoring to improve its organization.

Third: To publish for the benefit of all state legislators the monthly magazine, State Government, as well as special bulletins, and thus to disseminate information which will be helpful to all conscientious students of legislation; and

WHEREAS, The American Legislators' Association is promoting acquaintance and mutual understanding among all individuals and organizations officially concerned with the impartial and scientific functioning of the legislatures of the various states, by the organization of standing committees and advisory boards, and otherwise; and

WHEREAS, The character and project of the American Legislators' Association have the endorsement, and its organization has the active cooperation, not only of its membership, which consists entirely of members and ex-members of state legislatures, but also of numbers of other responsible citizens, many of whom, having specialized knowledge, are serving on the association's advisory boards; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring. That the organization of the American Legislators' Association and of the Interstate Legislative Reference Bureau are hereby commended as legitimate and constructive efforts to assist the legislatures of the various states in the efficient performance of their work.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION No. 27

Relating to memorializing the President of the United States by appropriate means to urge the United States government, as representing the Permanent Opium Committee of the League of Nations, Geneva, Switzerland, to urge upon the governments of certain nations the immediate necessity of limiting the production of all habit-forming narcotic drugs and the raw materials from which they are made to the amount actually required for strictly medicinal and scientific purposes at the forthcoming opium conference of the League of Nations.

WHEREAS, The report of the head office of the federal police of Vienna to the League of Nations, June 16, 1930, states:

WHEREAS, Illicit drugs formerly smuggled into the United States in ounce and pound lots are now coming in in tons; and

WHEREAS, The continuance of the sale and transportation of enormous quantities of these drugs results in the diversion of large quantities thereof into the channels of illegal international traffic, which illicitly brings into the United States, and here sells for unlawful purposes, preparations made therefrom, such as morphine, cocaine and heroin; and

WHEREAS, The United States of America, in dealing with the traffic in all habit-forming narcotic drugs within its own territories and cooperating sympathetically with the efforts of the government of China, has always been committed, without regard to revenue, to a program aiming at the complete suppression and prohibition of the production and sale of all narcotic drugs except for medicinal and scientific purposes; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, jointly, That the State of California, through its Legislature, hereby respectfully urges that the President of the United States by appropriate means put the United States on record as requesting the Permanent Opium Council of the League of Nations, Geneva, Switzerland, to urge the adoption of the scheme of stipulated supply; and be it further

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Clock:

AUSTIN, TEXAS, May 7, 1931.

*Hon. Frank F. Merriam, Lieutenant Governor,
Room 209, Second Floor, State Capitol,
Sacramento, California.*

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to present to you at this time the inclosed draft of a general conservancy, proration control, and State Compact Act as drawn by the legal subcommittee of the "Oil States Advisory Committee" and presented to the multilegislative and executive groups from the states of Texas and Arkansas at their meeting held at Austin, Texas, on the 4th, 5th and 6th of the current month.

I might state that this proposed measure is the product of tedious work and deep thought on the part of eminent and learned legal authorities, assisted by technical and practical men long identified with the oil industry. All divisions within the industry labored on the construction of this measure. The composition of the body engaged in this work comprised two members from the ranks of the major oil companies, three members from the ranks of the independent oil producing group, one from the United States government, and seven members from the ranks of the industry comprising practical and technical divisions thereof. This bill represents the product of their combined thought and experience, and I therefore would feel very grateful if you might find the time and interest to examine the document personally and offer it to the respective legislative bodies over which you preside.

This draft couples two objectives. The first thirteen sections compose an oil conservation law which would become effective in any state enacting it, regardless of whether other states adopted it. The last eight sections comprise an offer for an interstate compact, to become effective whenever two other states pass the act. This compact would place on a permanent basis an "Oil States Advisory Committee" to make recommendations as to the quantity of oil which should be produced without waste in each state, and to cooperate with the federal government in equalizing domestic and foreign production. This compact would provide a liaison body between states having substantially similar conservation laws. Among the proposed thirteen sections which would make up the uniform law, are included prohibition against waste, requirement for ratable takings, common purchaser provision, prohibitions against price discriminations by purchasers, provisions for equitable provisions in times of overproduction, authorization for unit development and a total phase which would regulate necessary zoning.

Every state is welcome to accept the proposed plan and is privileged to select its member of the proposed advisory committee. In any manner it sees fit, appointed by the Governor, selected by the Legislature or otherwise. A conservative organization, to limit overproduction to protect the oil and gas resources of the industry and the price taken, is the objective of the state and industry. The proposed statute is a symposium of the oil and gas laws of the states of California, Texas and Oklahoma, which would protect waste, control production and do other things necessary to conservation, the object being to make some rational use of the oil producing states, and thus save the oil industry from continuing in its present deplorable condition and rescue it from self-destruction.

Indeed, if this is not accomplished the oil industry appears in imminent danger of being declared of public interest by the Federal Congress and operated under Public Utility Act. The Texas meeting by unanimous vote accepted in principle the "Oil States Advisory Committee's" draft of conservancy and state compact and pledged themselves to its adoption as the basis for future legislation upon their study as being developing necessity for other changes as would best meet and suit local conditions in the state of Texas.

In closing, I desire to add that I have been advised that principally due to efforts of the Governor's committees, constructive work with the various divisions of the oil industry and the Federal authorities, we might look for passage of laws of crude petroleum before May 15th probably inaugurated in the mid continent and followed on the Pacific Coast.

I have confidence in this information and if the proration structure as now established does not bring relief in the first few days, I trust the purchasing companies will find a way to make the grade and I am very hopeful also that this oil and gas saving bill, extended to our California field. I am also hopeful that the legislation passed by the state government will give this entire matter the earnest thought and consideration it rightfully deserves.

I have the honor to remain,

Your obedient servant,

W. A. DOOLEY,

Member Oil States Advisory Committee.

A Tentative Draft Submitted for Discussion

An act prohibiting the waste of petroleum and of the petroleum resources of this state, protecting the petroleum resources of this state, preventing drainage of oil pools in the same oil pool; preventing unreasonable discrimination in the production of oil between and among oil pools when necessary to stop waste; creating a commission to effect these purposes; authorizing agreements for unit or other cooperative plans for the development and operation of single oil pools; appropriating money for the purposes of this act; providing penalties for the violation of this act; authorizing a compact with other states for the furtherance of said objectives, and prescribing the terms of said compact; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted, etc.

SECTION 1. Definitions. For the purposes of this act:

(a) The term "oil pool" shall include and include that zone which is underlaid, or which may be underlaid, by a common scientific data or from drilling operations or other evidence, appears to be underlaid, by a common accumulation of oil.

(b) The term "oil operator" shall include any person, firm, corporation, or association of whatever character who has the right to produce oil from lands in this state and to appropriate as his property all or part of the production resulting from his operations.

(c) The term "waste" as used herein, in addition to its ordinary meaning, shall refer to and include: (1) leakage and loss of (2) surface water, (3) waste incident to or resulting from the production of any oil or petroleum, by excess of transportation or marketing facilities or reasonable market demand, and this definition shall include whether said loss or excess of surface water, waste in a single pool or several pools, in this state or throughout the state at large, and its prohibiting waste incident to excess production, production shall be made to conserve the oil pools of settled production in this state; (4) waste incident to the inefficient use for oil producing purposes of the gas energy found in any oil pool in this state, and (5) all forms of waste incident to methods of drilling, spacing of wells, producing or operating, which are detrimental to the maximum ultimate recovery of oil from the ground, whether commercial or otherwise. And, it is further declared to be in the public interest and necessary to the conservation of the petroleum and natural resources of this state, that all petroleum not required by the demands of commerce, be kept, so far as possible, in storage. Storage underground, and that the requirements of commerce be first met by production from the wells of settled production in this state, which process is to preserve and keep these resources intact.

(d) The term "commission" as used herein shall refer to and mean the agency of this state, now empowered, or herein empowered, or hereafter empowered, to administer and carry into effect the terms and provisions hereof, and to enforce the petroleum conservancy laws of this state.

SEC. 2. Prohibitions: The production of crude petroleum in this state and the production of the petroleum resources thereof, in such manner and under such conditions as to constitute waste or wastes, as defined by this act, is hereby prohibited.

SEC. 3. Determinations by the commission: The commission shall from time to time determine the quantity of oil that may be produced without waste from each pool in the state, having regard to the equitable apportionment of outlets between said pools, and to the preservation of pools of settled production, and to the prevention of monopolies. It shall establish its findings by orders.

SEC. 4. To determine potential production: The commission may require a gauge of all wells, or establish such other reasonable standard for the determination of potential as it shall fix in its orders, rules, or regulations.

SEC. 5. Ratable taking and common purchase: That whenever the full production from any common source of supply of crude petroleum in this state can only be obtained under conditions constituting waste as herein defined, then any operator, having the right to drill into and produce oil from any such common source of supply, may take therefrom only such proportion of all crude oil that may be produced therefrom without waste, as the potential production of the well or wells of any such operator bears to the total potential production of such common source of supply, having due regard to the acreage drained by each well. Any purchaser of crude petroleum from any such common source of supply covered by this section shall be bound by the provisions hereof; and, where ratable taking shall be imposed under the conditions of this section, the production of crude petroleum owned or controlled either directly or indirectly by any such purchaser, shall be subject to the order for ratable taking, in the same manner and to the same extent as the production of any operator owning producing properties in said common source of supply. The commission is hereby authorized to so regulate the taking of crude petroleum from any or all of the common sources of supply in this state as to prevent the inequitable or unfair taking from a common source of supply by any person, firm, or corporation, and to prevent unreasonable discrimination in favor of any one such common source of supply as against another. Where it shall be necessary to determine the potential production of a common source of supply and of the several properties therein to enforce this section, the commission may require a gauge of all wells to determine the potential in such manner as it shall determine upon, or establish such other standard or standards for determining potential as shall be set forth in its orders, rules, or regulations. The commission, however, in its proration order, or limitation on production, may exempt from the operation thereof such wells of small production as it may think proper, to preserve wells of settled production in this state.

SEC. 6. Prevention of waste caused by unnecessary drilling: If and when the commission shall make an order, rule, or regulation to prevent waste incident to excess production, it shall have the further power to prohibit the drilling of any unnecessary wells in this state, such prohibition, however, to be limited to the period of four months from the making of said order. The term "necessary well," as applied to a developed or partially developed pool shall include the following types of wells and no other: (a) Wells that must be drilled to prevent the expiration of the fixed term of leases; (b) offsets to paying wells on adjacent lands; (c) wells that should be drilled to protect the owner against the loss of gas energy of the pool where the lease or leases are situate, provided, that in allowing the drilling of wells of this character, it shall clearly appear from the evidence that the owner of the particular lease or leases will suffer an unreasonable loss of gas energy during the period prohibiting the drilling set forth in the order of the commission. No order of the commission shall prohibit the drilling of wildcat wells where the following conditions obtain: (1) Where the operator proposing to drill shall own the lease on the tract to be drilled and also shall own leases upon a reasonable amount of acreage surrounding the location of the proposed well; (2) where the lease to be drilled and a reasonable amount of acreage surrounding the same shall have been unified for the purpose of development and operation. The commission in exempting wells of this character, shall have the power to determine the acreage surrounding the proposed location which shall be sufficient to justify the test. Provided further, however, that while an order to prevent waste incident to excess production shall be in force, no wildcat well brought in under the exemption of this section shall be permitted to produce in excess of an amount determined by the commission.

SEC. 7. Certificates of compliance with conservation laws: No oil well shall be permanently connected with a pipe line until the owner or operator of such well shall have secured from the commission a certificate of compliance with the conservation laws of the state.

SEC. 8. Certificate required for the extension of pipe lines: No common carrier of oil shall extend a pipe line more than two miles except after obtaining a certificate from the commission, that such extension would not cause, or contribute, to waste.

SEC. 9. Unit and other cooperative plans authorized on certain conditions: The owners or operators of lands on interests in a single oil pool may agree upon any plan of unit or cooperative development or operation, or other plan for the conservation of oil, provided that said plan is approved by the commission, on such conditions as it may prescribe.

SEC. 10. Property of the United States: Nothing herein shall be construed to interfere with the power of Congress to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States.

SEC. 11. Rules, regulations, orders and enforcement: The commission shall have power to promulgate and enforce such rules, regulations and orders as may be necessary to make this act effective. Any determination by the commission, affecting property rights, shall be after reasonable notice, and opportunity to be heard. In connection with the spacing of wells, and the unit or cooperative development or operation or other plan for the conservation of oil, as herein provided, the commission shall have power to determine the pro rata or ratable basis upon which owners of royalties, or mineral or operating or leasehold rights, affected thereby, shall participate in wells or production of oil resulting therefrom, and to adjust between such owners all conflicting claims, and to make any equitable order in relation thereto, which may be proper in order that substantial justice may be done to all parties. The commission shall also have power to prohibit the employment of any drilling or operating method or methods, or any drilling or operating appliance or appliances, the effect of which would be detrimental to the maximum ultimate recovery of oil from the ground. The commission shall also have power to prescribe rules and regulations preventing agreements or practices whereby there shall be any discrimination between pools in this state, as to the price paid for the oil from different pools in this state, giving due effect to all compensating differences; to deny to any operator rights that may be accorded him by such commission in case such operator disposes of his oil contrary to the orders of the commission or to the purposes of this act.

SEC. 12. Injunction: Where the commission shall have made an order, rule, or regulation for the prevention of the wastes prohibited by this act, and the same shall have been violated by any person, firm, or corporation, subject thereto, a transcript of all proceedings had before said commission resulting in said order, rule, or regulation, together with the fact of violation, shall be certified to the attorney general of this state, who thereupon shall bring action in the district court of the county where the oil properties operated in violation of the orders of the commission, shall be situate, for a mandatory injunction, compelling the offender to obey said order, rule, or regulation, and the said court is hereby given jurisdiction to grant said injunction. An application for a temporary injunction under this section may be based upon the certified transcript of said proceedings and proof of a violation of the order, rule or regulation of said commission, and like jurisdiction is hereby given to grant the same. Neither a temporary or permanent injunction granted under the provisions of this section shall be stayed or superseded, excepting upon application to the appellate court of this state having jurisdiction, and then only after due hearing thereupon. All proceedings provided for in this section shall take precedence over other causes pending in said courts.

SEC. 13. Penalties: Any oil operator violating any order, rule, or regulation of the commission shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in the district court of the county wherein any of the properties of said operator shall be located, shall be punished by a fine in any sum not to exceed five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and any officer or employee of any corporation which is an operator, so offending, shall be punished as a principal, by such fine or imprisonment, or by both, upon conviction of any such violation by him.

SEC. 14. Provisions of this act to constitute an interstate compact on certain conditions: This act shall be and constitute an offer on the part of this state to the states of Louisiana, Oklahoma, California, Kansas, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Ohio, and Arkansas, and any of other oil producing states of the Union, to enter into an interstate compact, for the purposes of preventing the waste of the petroleum resources of the compact states, and to conserve such resources for the use of the people of the United States, in adequate quantities, and for the longest possible period of time, the object being in all respects to promote the public interest of such states and of the United States. Such offer may be accepted by any or all of the other states above mentioned, by the passage of an act by the legislature thereof, as declaring, and enacting a statute or statutes; (a) providing for a conservancy law alike in principle with the conservancy provisions hereof, being sections 1 to 13, both inclusive, hereof, except such changes as may relate to matters of local administration; (b) providing for the erection of the commission herein referred to, empowered to administer and carry into effect, the provisions of such petroleum conservation law, provided if there be in office, such a commission with such power, no further act shall be required; and (c) providing for the creation of the oil states advisory committee with the powers hereinafter defined and containing the provisions relating to a compact, as hereinafter provided, being sections 15 to 17, inclusive, hereof. But no such compact shall be created unless the states of Oklahoma and Texas join therein; and the state so joining in such compact shall request the approval thereof by the congress of the United States. The governor of this state is empowered to determine if and when any other of such states has duly accepted the offer herein contained, and to so certify by his public proclamation, which certificate shall be conclusive. If prior to the passage of this act, any other of said states has enacted a petroleum conservancy law of the kind above provided for, and has proposed a compact of the kind herein provided for, this act shall be and constitute the acceptance thereof by this state, and the agreement of this state to enter into such compact. Pending motion by the congress, the provisions infra of this act relating to the appointment of the oil states advisory committee and its powers, shall be in force. If the congress refuse to approve such compact, this statute shall, nevertheless, remain the law of this state. Any state joining in said compact, may withdraw therefrom on one year's written notice to the governors of the other states joining in the compact.

Sec. 15. Agreements of this state concerning such compact: As a part of such compact, if and when made, this state agrees to keep in force statutes of this state providing for the commission herein provided for and to keep vested in said commission the power and jurisdiction to carry out the terms of such compact and the provisions of this act; to enact such further legislation as in the judgment of the legislature of this state, shall be proper, to more fully prevent waste in the petroleum resources of this state; to appoint and continue in office, a member of the oil states advisory committee; and to pay a proper share of the expenses of such committee.

Sec. 16. Major purposes of the interstate oil conservation compact: The major purposes of said compact shall be, first, to coordinate the exercise of the police power of the adhering states through their respective conservation agencies, to the end that the wasting and irreplaceable oil resources within their respective jurisdictions, may be of the greatest possible service to the people of the United States; second, to establish uniformity in the principles of the oil conservation laws of said states, leaving to each state the enactment of such supplementary provisions as may be locally necessary; third, the prevention of monopolies; and fourth, to secure to the people of the United States and this state, the enjoyment and benefit of the petroleum resources of this state, when and as needed, and at reasonable prices to the consumer.

Sec. 17. Oil states advisory committee created: As a part of the said compact, the oil states advisory committee is hereby created, which shall be an interstate fact-finding and advisory committee of the compact states. The committee shall consist of one member, chosen by each of the compact states, in such manner as the state may prescribe. In default of other provisions for the selection of such member of the committee, the chairman or head of the conservation commission of each state shall be its member, of the committee. The committee may act by its officers, to be shown by it in such manner as it may prescribe, but a majority of the committee must approve all acts of the committee. The committee shall have the following powers:

(a) To designate one or more offices; to prescribe the times and places of its meetings, at least quarterly; to provide its by-laws and procedure; to employ a secretary and such other assistants as may be requisite, and to pay their compensation, provided, however, that the expenses of the committee shall be apportioned among the compact states in such proportion as the committee may decide, and the commission of this state shall have power to use any of its funds for the purpose of defraying this state's proportion of the expenses of said committee; provided, however, that no part of the expenses of said committee shall be charged against any state without its consent. This state hereby appropriates as a continuing appropriation, the sum of ----- dollars per annum, as its share of the expenses of said committee, not exceeding, however, its said apportionment.

(b) To investigate and publish facts regarding supply and demand, drilling, production and operating methods and costs and such other information relating to the oil industry as may promote the elimination of waste or may be requested by any compact state or the United States.

(c) To promulgate forecasts of the quantities of oil that may be produced without waste in each compact state.

(d) To cooperate with the congress, and other agencies of the United States, in equating domestic production of petroleum with foreign production and imports, for the purposes of promoting the export trade of the United States and minimizing waste of petroleum resources within the United States, and to assist the United States to the extent to which requested, in all purposes proper in carrying out the purposes of the compact.

(e) To advise all importers of foreign oil and its refined products of the necessary percentage of the limitation on imports of said products, which in its judgment and determination is in accordance with the limitation of production of crude oil within the United States, and at such time shall make public such recommendations made by it to such importers.

(f) To advise from time to time the legislatures of the compact states of such further legislation as in the judgment of said committee may be necessary to make effectual the provisions and purposes hereof.

(g) To cooperate with each state conservancy commission so far as such agency may request, in furtherance of such compact.

(h) To allocate at the time of the making public of its forecast for the demand from each of the compact states for petroleum, to each of the compact states the allowable production from that state, which, however, shall be submitted to each of the commissions of the compact states. Should it appear from any such forecast that there exists or will exist in any one or more of the compact states, or in any oil pool in any of such states, an excess of production over transportation and marketing facilities and reasonable market demands, the committee shall determine such excess of production in each of the compact states and in any such pool, and the extent to which the production of each of said states should be refused, consistent with such facilities or reasonable market demands. In arriving at this figure, the committee shall take into account the production of each of said states and its market outlet at the time. The commission of each of the compact states shall take into consideration all such recommendations of the committee, to the end that such condition of waste common to the compact states, shall be adjusted and equalized by them.

SEC. 18. Concerning the commission: The ----- commission of this state is hereby authorized and empowered, as the commission of this state named and referred to herein, to administer this act and to carry out and perform its terms. All the powers of said commission or as they may be amended, shall apply to and govern the commission provided for in this act.

NOTE: If there should be no such commission, or, if it is considered desirable that another commission should be created under the terms of this act, provision for the same may be inserted under this section.

SEC. 19. Separability: If any provision of this act or any order, rule, or regulation, of the commission made hereunder shall be declared unconstitutional, or invalid, the validity of the remainder of this act, and the validity of the other orders, rules, and regulations of the commission hereunder, shall not be affected thereby.

SEC. 20. Repeal of inconsistent laws: All laws and parts of laws inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 21. Emergency: If being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, by reason whereof this act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval.
